DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-8 and 12-19, drawn to an isolated polynucleotide encoding APAO enzyme in a recombinant cassette, and transgenic plant/ cell/seed comprising it, classified in class 800, subclass 279, for example .
 - II. Claims 9 and 20, drawn to method for reducing pathogenicity of a fungus by expressing APAO enzyme and fumonisin esterase, classified in class 435 , subclass 69.7, for example.
 - III. Claims 10-11 and 21-22, drawn to a method of making APAO enzymes in a recombinantly engineered host cell, classified in class 435, subclass 69.1, for example .

For each of inventions I - III above, restriction to one of the following is also required under 35 USC 121. Therefore, election is required of one of inventions I - III and one of inventions (A)-(F).

- (A). SEQ ID No: 35
- (B). SEQ ID No: 37
- (C). SEQ ID No: 39
- (D). SEQ ID No: 41
- (E). SEQ ID No: 43

Art Unit: 1638

(F). SEQ ID No: 45

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions (A)-(E) are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions, represent structurally different genes. Therefore, where structural identity is required, such as for hybridization or expression, the different sequences have different effects.

Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. The polynucleotide of Group I can be used in hybridization assays.

3. Inventions I (or III) and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case, the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and have different modes of operation. The invention of Group II requires co-expression of two different enzymes, fumonisin esterase and APAO enzymes, which is not required by the either of the other two groups.

Art Unit: 1638

Inventions I and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case, different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and have different modes of operation.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case, different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and have different modes of operation .

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and the literature and sequence searches required for each of the Groups are not required for another of the Groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
